August and September Intro

As I celebrate 55 years as an Editor and/or Publisher I am amazed how long it took me to learn certain things. August tends to be a “No News” month on the homeless and poverty front, and most of our elected officials have the month off, besides. On a Political Realignment Year, once every 8 years, when a new District Attorney, Sheriff, and key County and City positions are elected, there is some news, but not much. The last time we had a Political Realignment Year, 2010, the San Diego Homeless News did not exist until October, one month before the General Election. So, this is my first August Edition (which ran into September) EVER on a Realignment Year. The next Realignment Year will be 2026, my 74th birthday.

I learned that the fewer editions I publish, the better my readership and impact. And, it should be obvious that this newspaper is about political impact, and not making advertising money. A brief analysis of why San Diego has such a big homeless problem is that all the money spent, be it City, County, State, or HUD, only treats the effects, not the housing problem. Trash being thrown on the street? Lots of pee and poop everywhere? Diseases? Curtailment of retail trade due to safety concerns? Yes. These are the EFFECTS caused by homelessness, and money is spent on these things. Money is NOT spent, however, on having fewer homeless so that all of those effects do not occur in the first place. Why?

Some say it would be too expensive to create housing for all current San Diegans, but those same people approved over $300,000 per homeless person housed to create PATH Connections Housing in downtown San Diego. Hmmm. Seems to me you can get a nice home with a swimming pool in Alpine for $600,000 and we could put two homeless people into each one, right? The point made is that it is not the money that is the problem. It is greed, and really crazy regulations that cause our homeless problem to not go away. Take the new circus-tent shelters. It costs $1,700 per month for each person housed. How much does it cost for a conventional non-subsidized apartment, the cheapest one? Same price. So, why not house homeless in plain old-fashioned apartments, paying full market price? Same cost.

Well, the simple answer is that nobody's brother-in-law would make any money on that. We waited many years for a new downtown library because nobody in government had any relatives that built libraries for a living. The grim statistic is that NO new housing is ever built for those too poor (working full-time) and cannot afford rent. None. And none is planned, nor has it ever been planned. Every year, San Diego tears down a thousand low-income housing units, some of them costing only $30 a week to rent, causing a thousand new homeless. And, every year the City and County build zero new housing units, drive the companies that build low-income housing out of town, and create 300 non-housing institutional residential units for those who have become mentally unstable and/or drug abusers because of having been homeless for so long. Shit.

This leads to the following new definition of HOUSING: “Housing is any privately-operated residential real estate that is neither owned nor designed by a government agency nor nonprofit organization.” It does not require having a roommate. It does not require being home before a certain hour at night, nor does it restrict how early in the morning a resident may leave for work. Within reason, it does not restrict having a friend over for lunch. So, how much Housing has been created and is being created? None. And a thousand additional folks every year in San Diego need housing, to make up for their homes being “Redeveloped” and torn down.

Currently the fake PITC (Point-In-Time Count), an official HUD count of homeless made every January, measured 8% fewer homeless in San Diego this year. Okay, but how come there are so many more of them on the sidewalk? Well, people in RV's were not counted as “homeless” and lots of homeless were arrested the day before the count, so that they would be in jail and not on the sidewalk to be counted. The bad news is that an official count of 8% fewer homeless means 8% less HUD money to deal with the San Diego homeless situation, which was cut from $82 million in 2016 to $78 million in 2017. Now, it's 8% less, or $72 million. Progress?

How many homeless do we have? A minimum of 17,500, the number who asked for help “because of being homeless” in 2017, and a maximum of 35,000, based upon only 50% willing to give all their personal data. To avoid duplicates, each homeless person asking for help needs to give an extreme amount of data, including their photo, the numbers of all ID cards such as their Driver's License, and way, way, more. If only 50% were willing to give that information, then 17,500 is 50% of 35,000. Most homeless are hidden and have NEVER been counted. We added 1,000 homeless in 2017, so our total now is 18,500 minimum. Of the new 1,000 homeless, 100 were given non-housing in institutions such as rubber tents, Hitler-camps, and/or private prisons. Again, shit! Another 500 homeless were added in the half-year since the January count, of course, so the August-September 2018 count is a minimum of 19,000, with the October number 19,160 and increasing at the rate of 20 new homeless per week.

Why not give your personal information? All of it finds its way into secret files maintained by the Bar, the Freemasons, and other secret organizations, and it is used to deny people housing and employment, forever. Conspiracy Theory? Anyone using that term is trying to keep people stupid. Every single bank, church, nonprofit, and government agency is run by secret organizations that make all decisions, and that has been true of all societies that ever existed.

Father Joe's Villages, considered one of the more “Nazi” of housing slum-lord groups, secured a donation to keep operating at its present pace. That's bad news, of course. In addition to government cuts, 25% per year Real Inflation (not that fictional government index nonsense) cut another hunk out of everything. Social Security and SSI Disabled are now starving so that the Ruling Class could escape paying taxes. Imagine barely being able to pay $25 a week rent, only to have your home torn down to build Petco Park. Move? Where, Mars? Rents are now higher than wages.

Disabled people get $650 per month SSI for all expenses, nationwide, plus in California they get their Food Stamp Benefits (also called EBT, CalFresh, and SNAP) in cash, another $200 a month, usually used for rent instead of food. If you also get Social Security, that amount is deducted from your SSI Disability funds. Is it an ADA violation to push rent prices up higher than Disabled folks can pay? Do you think anyone will prosecute the State Legislature, County Board, and City for us?

And, the Perpetrators of Homeless Causation Redevelopment are still at large: Toni Atkins, Ben Hueso, Todd Gloria, Brian Maisenschein, Kevin Faulconer, David Alvarez, the San Diego County Board, and many more. Help un-employ a guilty politician. Vote everybody out.

John Kitchin, NZ9F, Homeless Editorial Board.

The Calendar – Words of Wisdom in a Fake News World

September and Back-to-School, Liberals will feel sorry for the homeless. Come November, Progressives feel sorry, followed by Moderates in December. Then in January, a new fake homeless count. The Conservatives? They don't care, except the homeless they created in 1980 and ever since interfere with tourism, condo sales, business, that sort of thing. Cash. Homelessness is bad for their wallets.

All “solutions” proposed deal with the problems that having so many homeless cause, not with reducing how many homeless we have. We still have no word on how many homeless were arrested the day before the PITC official count in January, but the previous year, January 2017, there were 2,600 which had been arrested and were in County Jail so that they could not be counted on the sidewalk. This year, the number in jail seems to be getting ignored. The correct Journalists to write that story would be either Kelly Davis or Lisa Halverstadt, of course.

The City Council, much to its credit, actually made the public heard, with their plans to limit vacation rentals and their refusal to put Convention Center expansion on the ballot. Some plans had Chris Ward either not voting or voting with the Republicans. How pro-homeless is that? It's not. Another Fake Democrat. California breeds 'em. Like Todd Gloria before him, Ward has ideas that look like they are helping homeless, but they are doing just the opposite, Gentrification, causing more scarcity and price with regard to real estate.

A Social Class of homeless people, created by President Reagan circa 1980, was neither dealt with nor eliminated the past 38 years. An offshoot of losing the Vietnam War, which was intended to kill off "excess" citizens by drafting men and making them die. It didn't work, because women had children anyway, and many unable to find husbands merely became lesbians.

I managed to stay alive, un-drafted, single, no children, and neither a real estate sucker nor a religious sucker. That is total success along the lines of being intelligent versus ordinary and stupid. It has been a challenge financially because whenever I make any money it gets stolen from me by the Bar, using the legal system to tell whatever lies they decide to make up. So, working for money is a mistake. Money can only be made by being born with it, inheriting it, stealing it, marrying into it, and similar. If you work for money, it will be taken away from you, using completely false evidence in court. People are controlled and hypnotized using Human Spirituality (blood and semen in food and drink) and believe whatever they are told. Caste Class Warfare.

Local Order Bans Ticketing for Sleeping in Cars – Western States Order Bans Ticketing for Sleeping on Sidewalks

Disability Rights California opposed the San Diego City Ordinance which prohibits sleeping in cars, claiming it violates ADA, the Americans with Disabilities Act, as well as being vague, causing discriminatory enforcement, and found a judge that so far agrees. While no ruling has yet been made, there is a Temporary Restraining Order prohibiting the ticketing of homeless who sleep in their cars. Also, past tickets for same have been thrown out, at least temporarily. According to news accounts, this does not apply to RV's, but more than one lawyer I spoke with says it automatically does apply also to Recreational Vehicles. The Order also prohibits the impounding of vehicles.

Vehicles must be legally parked, or you can be ticketed for illegal parking, and the RV overnight parking ordinance is expected to be upheld as valid. Currently, Dreams For Change operates a sleep-in-your-car program, and negotiations are pending with the City Attorney to get an RV parking overnight lot for the homeless. Note that NO vehicle may be parked anywhere on San Diego streets for longer than 72 hours (three days). Also note that "living", "sleeping", and "napping" are all considered the same thing.

In related news, the Western States Appeals Court knocked down ALL laws prohibiting or ticketing homeless for living and/or sleeping on sidewalks. The only proviso is that there must be no shelter space "practically available" for that person. That means the San Diego practice of requiring shelter providers to maintain some empty beds does not qualify as beds actually being available. San Diego contracts with shelter providers to have vacant beds, turning people away rather than permitting those beds to be used, so it can always say it has vacant beds.

Meetings:

By Merlynn Tulen-Watanabe

Think Dignity met the first Thursday of August, Aug. 2, at the Moniker Warehouse, downtown San Diego. Two new shower sites were begun, and the schedule for showers can be found at ThinkDignity.Org. • Protests were held against the Ordinance prohibiting people from living in RV's, but so far that stands. Bloom vs. San Diego. • Income Discrimination got banned July 31, which no longer allows landlords to reject Section 8 vouchers. • A podcast was held on Criminalization versus Realities of homelessness. • Think Dignity will be holding meetings and rallies to try to transform the societal stigma, including language, as it affects the poor. The first Dinner Discussion will be on Sept. 19 from 6-7:30 pm at Waypoint Public, 30th and North Park Way. RSVP as seating is limited to 12 people. • The PITC, Point-In-Time Count, HUD's official count, counted 8% fewer homeless this January, but failed to count both RV's and some shelters. (Editor's Note: This resulted in an 8% cut in HUD funds for San Diego.) The City Attorney is working on a safe-parking lot for RV's. • Schools have a different definition of "homeless" and include families paying over 50% of their income for rent. • Think Dignity is now accepting donation of useful items for its Winter survival distribution. Email merlynn@ThinkDignity.Org. • Street café every first and third Friday from 3-4:30 PM, Chicano Park. •

Gordon Walker, CEO of the RTFH (Regional Task Force on the Homeless) proposed a new program to support homeless individuals, but it was rejected. • ♦♦♦♦♦

Meetings, Continued, By John Kitchin

Think Dignity also met September 6 at the same location, the Moniker Warehouse, reviewing the two cases cited in the article previous to the Meetings heading. • An All-Industry Cruise on the Hornblower raised funds and provided networking. • The Pacific Beach Rotary Club will be sponsoring hot showers for the working homeless who have full-time jobs and do not want to lose them by smelling bad. Shower sites may now be adopted. ThinkDignity.Org. Note that the City of San Diego does not allow downtown toilets nor showers under any circumstances. • The HUMAN Advocacy Campaign kicks off Sept. 19. HUMAN stands for Humanize, Unite, Media, Advocate, Neighborism, and its first meeting is called Dinner Discussions, to be held Sept. 19 from 6 to 7:30 PM at Waypoint Public, 3794 30th St., in San Diego. An RSVP is required because seating is limited to 12 people. Guests include Aeiramique Blake, Community Activist of Generation Justice; Coleen Cusack, Criminal Defense Attorney; and Jonathan Markovitz, ACLU Staff Attorney. • Amikas, the nonprofit founded by Jeeni Criscenzo to provide housing for female veterans back when females were not permitted in the shelter system, will be donating 4 of its "Tiny Homes" to the shelter operated by Alpha Project. Robert Bird is currently in charge, and the history of the Tiny Homes project goes back the entire 8 years this newspaper has existed. There were trips made by City, County, and State officials to observe how Tiny Homes greatly reduced and/or eliminated the homeless problem in a handful of other cities, at a very low cost. It has been years, but finally San Diego is giving it a cautious test run. I suggested that if each San Diego homeless person were given what is essentially a garden shed to sleep in and store their belongings, the cost per person housed would be more on the order of $2,000 each instead of the current expense of $300,000 each. That could eliminate our problem of having (in reality) 19,000 homeless at a cost of only $38 million. Keep in mind that our present system uses $78 million per year, not just once only, and accomplishes nothing. Funding was recently cut to $72 million a year.

Sexual Revolution

Cuba's new Constitution gives LGBT couples civil rights, permitting same-sex marriages and outlawing discrimination based upon sexual preference. • Mexico has begun running ads featuring drag queens and suggesting that sexual preferences are a right. • Demonstrators in Central and South America, some of them topless women, protested the outlawing of abortion. Many wore "Occupy Wall St." masks. • The Rock Church took over a strip club in Three Points (the Midway Triangle) of San Diego, and that might be just what we need to get people into church. We Pagans drink alcohol in church, dance, and worship nude, of course, that going back 20 thousand years. Your body is God's artwork, and no one wants to alter art, especially when visiting the artist. •

Feedback:

I keep promising to answer the Ultimate Question from the ET Alien article I ran which told about the Anunnaki, the species that created this planet and our DNA. How is it that a culture that has no crime, no poverty, no violence, no war, no hatred, and no Discrimination, created us? Here are the possible answers: (1) It is known that they treasure knowledge, and want to know everything that can be known. What their society knows nothing about, then, is corruption, avarice, greed, control, hatred, that sort of thing. Perhaps we are a study in evil. (2) It is also possible that we have corrupted them, and taught them to feel joy from greed and suffering. Not likely. (3) It is also possible that there are also rogue Anunnaki, whose morals fell apart, maybe making us Children of a Lesser God. Both (1) and (3) go along with the fact that we are not enhanced apes but actually sabotaged and inferior Anunnaki. Hitler crossed gorillas with humans, for example. (4) The most compelling answer is one that I had not considered, but it comes out of science fiction. We humans on Earth were asked to become part of their classless, needless, perfect society, but instead refused because it went against the Ruling Class wanting to control everyone via overpopulation. We kill ET's and torture them to steal their secrets, which we use to control humans and wage war.

Mexico has seen a very large amount of flooding, earthquakes, fires, and volcanic eruptions this year. TV stations are also reporting more Racism in Mexico than ever before. News Media News:

Coordinated by John Kitchin, with a lot of other help. This section contains news that concerns both the news media and poverty politics at the same time. I want to apologize for missing very many good articles, as I have been busy with other work.

This edition also contains an editorial to be read by the news media, near the end. How gutsy is that?

Once again, the best editorials were by Aaryn Belfer, who is definitely on a roll for CityBeat. In addition to her excellent July 4 "Dirty money times ten", which pointed out the lies told by Juan Vargas about the $10,000 he took from Private Prison interests, that article also claimed that the California State Legislature no longer has any Democrats. I wrote about that years ago, calling California's Democrats "Republicanized", sort of like Africanized bees. Belfer's other excellent articles included the August 1 "You! Have! Blood on your hands!" and "To underserve and project", August 15. Both of those are about problems with the Police-State we live in.

Lisa Halverstadt had a great article on how San Diego bought an indoor skydiving center (Voice of San Diego). I considered it long and boring but it brought out all the facts, so it did what it was supposed to do.

Make America Great Again? Trump attacks Google, which can sometimes be partisan, but people really want to know about Trump's shady deals, potential Treason, that sort of thing. They don't want to read his Schizophrenic tweet hallucinations. See more on Trump, near the end of this edition.

Michael Smolens, San Diego Union-Tribune, Aug. 10, 2018, Page A8, about San Diego's recurring failures, "Why big issues never go away in San Diego".

John Kitchin: Priest Pedophilia was again in the news. I remember some of the initial coverage from Boston and Milwaukee and all the cover-ups. I was personally repeatedly victimized by the Catholic Church both as a young child and later victimized by the Jesuits as an adult as well. It taught me as a little boy that priests and nuns take children to bed, and that there is no God. Under other circumstances I might have become a Catholic Priest, but in Milwaukee, Archbishops Cousins and later Weakland were only recruiting gay men and pedophiles at that time. Haunting true story. Mexico PBS (IPN Eleven) had a lengthy TV documentary on the topic, in both English and Spanish, which featured many people that I knew. My Great Aunt was a nun, and a shared mistress for Catholic Priests, operating out of a convent in West Allis, Wisconsin (suburb of Milwaukee), which is where all four of my grandparents come from. Her job was to disinterest priests in sex with little boys or married women of their parish. The Virgin Mary had that same job, but in the Jewish Temple of Jerusalem.

133 Journalists killed in the line of duty in Mexico, plus 20 missing and never found. Mexico has intelligence agents, trained by CIA and the US Marine Corps who investigate the deaths of Journalists. Mexico's National-Channel-10 News reporter Carlos Lopez was murdered last week. Note that this is NOT San Diego News 10. • Our Editor John Kitchin is considered a Journalist in Mexico, and there was one unsuccessful attempt on his life, in 2010. The case was solved but not prosecutable because the perpetrators were [redacted]. It was San Diego politics. He had started an Underground newspaper, this newspaper, 3 weeks earlier. Now you know why we don't have a lot of Free Press out there.

The usual good editorials from Seth Combs, Editor of CityBeat, too many to cite them all. Whenever I disagree with him editorially, which is not often, that is something to look at closely. I never saw eye to eye with David Rolland, one of the two founders of CityBeat, so Combs is a welcomed improvement. He still does not see through the disguise of Chris Ward, who sometimes votes with the Republicans on items regarding Gentrification, and seems to hold his predecessor Todd Gloria in equal honor, despite his involvement in creating our current homeless problem and failing to help it, another Gentrifier. Editor Rolland left to join the staff of Toni Atkins, the principal architect (along with Mayor Jerry Sanders and Kris Michell) of the San Diego Homeless Creation Redevelopment Plan, still in use today. The City almost shit when Combs cited me as an advocate leader, in his eulogy of Water Man David Ross. Thanks, Seth. I wish I had your eye and ear for art and music. Too busy struggling to survive.

Gary Warth had a great article on the new Amikas and Alpha Project "Tiny Homes" program, Union-Tribune, Page B1, Sept. 8, "New Housing Option". This program has been used to entirely solve the homeless crisis in some cities. San Diego City and County are about ten years behind on this one.

Donald "Fake News Perpetrator" Trump Critical of News Media, Facebook, Google

Dr. John Kitchin, Editor-Publisher, de-facto Historian Laureate of the San Diego Homeless Situation

Donald Trump has repeatedly insulted the news media, who refuse to regurgitate to the public his fully-Schizophrenic view of reality. Times past, the media repeated lies told by the government, especially during the 1980's reign of President Ronald ("Voodoo Economics") Reagan, who made the homeless a brand new social class and quintupled our homeless numbers more than once.

I keep forgetting that most folks reading me never lived during the best years of the United States, because they were either too young or not yet born. This was once a great and fantastic nation, and I agree with Trump that we need to make it great again. Following this article, be sure to read "Make America Great Again", in this edition.

Population can expand un-checked, even as much as 25% per year, but at some point those babies are going to be 16 or 18 years old, and need jobs and housing. Economies can usually only be expanded 6% per year or less, and housing only 1%, so not everybody is going to get a job nor a place to live. Whenever the population is rapidly expanded, there are "excess" people for which no home nor job can exist.

The World War One (1910) Baby Boom led to the Great Hoover Depression in 1929 and the 1930's, 19 years later. Emergency housing and employment measures included the Civilian Conservation Corps, which housed people in tents in our National Forests, where they had jobs planting trees and creating free campgrounds, many of which still exist today. I wrote more than one book on the topic, and my favorite free camp is called Fanny Lake, in the Nicolet National Forest.

The Vietnam War was another "solution" to having "excess" citizens, for which we had neither jobs nor housing, intentionally drafting and killing our own soldiers. It was assumed the women back in the US who could not find husbands would not have children. Wrong. This dealt with the World War Two Baby Boom, those born from 1940 to 1955.

The other thing Vietnam dealt with is the greed of some wealthy families, who sold so much military hardware to the government as to entirely bankrupt us. We still owe trillions of dollars on the Vietnam War, although it gets hidden in accounting. By 1972 the US was essentially gone, and by 1976 in chaos and a big loser. Then came Reagan in 1980, and our Great Nation was a Big Laugh. If you do the math on inflation, and you ignore the government statistical lies, our Minimum Wage today should be about $170 an hour, to equal what it would buy in the year 1970. And, the Internet is full of misleading data on that, too. It may say that an Oldsmobile automobile is $1,000, but nowhere does it tell you that people bought cars for half that or less, new. Look at the prices listed in newspapers and magazines, such as "Miller High-Life Beer, now just 28 cents a six-pack at Alpha Beta Groceries". I sold gasoline in 1970 for 19 cents a gallon.

On the Economy, President Nixon changed what the "Unemployment Rate" consists of, which went as high as 55% or 57% during the Great Depression, and that caused Unemployment to go down, even though it was going up. Since the old Unemployment formula counted people working less than 40 hours a week or doing work below their educational level as "Unemployed", today that old-formula number would be as high as 95%. Today, Unemployment is the additional number of people not finding jobs, not the total number of people without jobs. A good Unemployment Rate would be minus 8% or at least minus 6%.

Getting back to Trump, the case can easily be made for High Treason for Collusion with the Russian government, and the Constitution gives the Death Penalty as appropriate, without any trial being necessary. The only FAKE NEWS about him is the stuff FAUX (FOX) News says in support of his lunatic tirades. Most news media are at least 99% truth. So, President Trump, You're Fired!

Keep up the good work in the News Media, and continue to be more truthful than ever before. I suggested that Trump be Impeached at his Inauguration, but there were too many corrupt politicians in Congress to do that. Pity. Now, I expect the Republicans to Impeach Trump in January. He has destroyed something like one-third of the remaining Greatness of the United States. He has also made many Republicans un-electable but they can bounce him for that.

His latest Schizophrenic rage would raise taxes on China, which is the principal holder of our National Debt. If they cashed in all their dollars for a different currency, we would be putting trillion-dollar coins into parking meters. Does Trump have any sense at all?

In Mexico, they had the first free and fair election in their history, July 1, 2018. The Brown Party, Morena, got more votes than the United States Democratic Party of Mexico (PAN) and the United States Republican Party of Mexico (PRI) combined. Some say, however, that the Brown Party views Brown people, the Mexicans, as the Master Race. Too early to tell, but I am currently visiting Mexico to research Racism, as a Psychologist and Investigative Reporter. Be proud to be a Journalist, because a lot of times it is we who make all the difference. As for Trump, I doubt he could run a car wash, much less the USA.

Dr. John Kitchin, NZ9F, Ph.D., answering the President Trump Challenge of the news media.

Make America Great Again

Is Trump implying that it is no longer great? If you study his tweets, it is obvious that he is Schizophrenic or at least a habitual liar who also deludes himself. If he were an Editor or Pundit, okay, but he is supposed to be the President, which is our equivalent of being king. That notwithstanding, "Make America Great Again" is a worthwhile cause, so what made this nation great, and how do we get back there? And, if you want to know how we lost our Greatness, read the article before this one, on this same page.

WAGES: Aside from Revolutionary War times back in 1776, where we fought England to have no king, free speech, free press, and government out of religion, America began its greatness with Henry Ford promising his automobile workers five times the salary of other leading Western nations such as England, France, Italy, Sweden, and Holland. He wanted extreme quality and was willing to pay an extreme price. It stuck, and US workers got the highest salaries in the world, but earned every penny, working very smart, and making great-quality stuff.

In the 1930's the whole idea got challenged, with most folks unemployed and homeless. San Diego's homeless were marooned on Coronado Island, which had neither a bridge nor a connecting Silver Strand causeway, being a real island back then. Tent City, located just south of the then-derelict Hotel Del Coronado, is said to have had as many as 100,000 homeless. In response to these "Hoovervilles", homeless encampments named after President Herbert Hoover, called "Hoover Heaver" by the poor, our next President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, FDR, established a brand-new political party, the Democrats, a party of Labor Unions.

The unions fought for wages and benefits 5 times higher than other developed major Western nations and got them. Greed interfered, though. Many battles with guns ensued where the hired Pinkerton private police battled and killed striking union workers, and vice versa. It was extremely bloody, a civil war.

The Schlitz Brewery in Milwaukee was paying something like $50 an hour in today's money, which meant that 50% of the profits went to investors, and the other half to the brewery workers in salaries. Management balked, closing the brewery, the largest brewery in the world to date, bigger than all of the other breweries on the planet combined. Both Lincoln Welders and Harley-Davidson Motorcycles had a different plan. The union bought the companies.

Elsewhere, intense union-busting occurred for years, plus most jobs were transferred overseas by Conservatives. Today, the Charter Schools are an attempt to bust teachers unions. But high wages and labor unions were not the only thing that made America great. The other great thing was our tax system.

TAXES: The Income Tax not only theoretically taxed the wealthy far more than average citizens, but it also forced them to start completely new corporations and employ millions of people. Our highest tax rate was 99.9999%, but there were millions of tax loopholes available allowing rich folks to pay no tax at all, the same as now.

Nonprofits, too, benefited from the high income tax rate, because if you donated $2 million to the Boy Scouts or the March of Dimes, you could take a $6 million tax deduction. All of your income had to be planned with tax deductions and tax credits in mind, if you were extremely wealthy, so you used Tax Accountants to make sure you didn't get taxed.

The best tax shelters were for starting bona-fide new businesses that paid well. You cannot get this discount from the IRS for taking over a present business and re-branding it, but only for a new corporation that employs many people. If you start a new business and it employs 200,000 people at a wage of $40 an hour, you would get outrageously huge tax breaks. Why? Well, how much money does the IRS collect from 200,000 people each earning $40 an hour? A lot. See the deal? This is exactly the deal that made this nation great. In the end, it did not take that much effort to pay no income taxes at all, PLUS a lot of times this new corporation made billions, causing further tax problems, causing more corporations created by those tax problems. It was a never-ending circle of prosperity. One thing that made it work is that they had to pay really well, or else they didn't generate the tax advantages desired.

Move on to the beginning of the end, Ronald Reagan's "Voodoo Economics", the cause for our troubled economy ever since the 1980's. He said we need low taxes on the wealthy so that they could take that money and invest it in new companies hiring millions of people. Wrong. Under Reagan's tax plan, still in use today, the wealthy pocketed their tax savings, not even investing it, and without that money the economy got as sour as it is now. And, when there was job creation, it was poorly paid. Workers got Scab-Wage.

CONCLUSIONS: Make America Great Again? Yes. Return the wages to five times what workers make in other Western G8 nations, and require Labor Unions and the old Income Tax plans that force the wealthy to always employ more people. This would end homelessness in the United States. So far, only Iceland has adopted this very old plan, and it has worked well for them.

How about RF (radio frequency) chokes on all inputs, PC boards, and outputs, especially power cords. Better radio shielding, too, and even aluminum foil would work, if it is radio-grounded. We represent the world's fastest-growing ethnic group, the homeless, the only group that gets NO protection from discrimination in employment, housing, education, nor hate-crimes. We are those who suffer because the wealthy own everything. No one WANTS to be homeless nor CHOOSES to be homeless. It happens when everything you do to prevent it fails to work. Making anything illegal that cannot be prevented makes no sense. Instead, make it illegal for circumstances to force people to become homeless against their will. Once homeless, people will need to use booze or dope, just to stay sane, and many lose that fight, too, becoming mentally ill and often killing themselves. This ends the problems that society forced upon them. Self-Servatives (Con-Servatives, Con Artists that Serve themselves) cause funerals, but they don't mind, because they don't believe in God.

These are the same people who invented God, so they could control you and make money off you. They fill your head with propaganda from the day you are born. The Bar (Democrats and Republicans of the British and Italian Mafias and the Jewish Cabals) licenses attorneys and runs the court system, religious system, and news media. Welcome to Reality! They make money by expanding the population, with major holdings in both real estate and food production. They hate population reduction, and have forced women to have babies, even though herbs for both birth control and pregnancy termination have been available for thousands of years. That is also why they hate same-sex marriage, as it does not automatically produce biological children, and why they hate suicide and birth control, both of which reduce population. They also hate war, unless they can make money on it. "They" is the Middle Templar Bar of London.

The Bar of London is a franchise of the Swiss Nazi Knights Templar, which is descended from the Pharaohs of Ancient Egypt. They operate the World Bank, Freemasons, and Illuminati, as well as the Italian Mafia. Sometimes called the Pharistocracy, or Pharaoh Aristocracy, this group is responsible for there having been kings and queens, as well as the use of hypnosis to control the public via religion. They control the world's food supply, adding drugs to same in order to control and enslave the public. Many of them are not even from this planet.

A "Guild" is a secret conspiracy group that places their blood and semen in the food that everybody eats. In Hoc Signo Vinces, "In this sign you will conquer". Domini Nos Dirige, "Lord (a British Lord, not God) guide us", motto of the City of London, founded 43 AD, and Pagan until 1300 AD. The super-secret Jesuit Knights of Malta are a group that founded the Illuminati of the Rothschild-Rockefeller Family, and part of the New World Order. See the back of a dollar bill. Take some of this with a grain of salt. Below, some of the more modern agencies of these same above groups.
